Too Modest

To say much for ourselves, we have kept quiet the past year and "saved wood", but with springing grass and leafing trees we begin to feel as if it was the proper caper to blow our own horn a little.

You take a drive or walk thro' Glen-Elta and Riverview, and so along south thro' Carrington, Wheeler & Whitehead additions and you will wonder why we are so modest. We are now putting down 2,000 feet more water main, thus continuing our "Riverview" system thro' both of the other additions so that every lot on the three additions will have artesian water. Today there are in course of erection seven more new homes. making in all TWENTY-FIVE homes within sixteen months. Our enterprises are no boom projects, they are just straight, plain business efforts, resulting in home building by home seekers.

If you keep your eyes open and watch Spring Brook and Riverside, you will also see there fresh surprises, hose additions are coming to the front.

If you seek a home, if you seek an investment, if you want ANYTHING in place till you see us. Yours very truly,

JOSEPH E. McDONALD

Death of One of the Most Notable Figures in Indiana Politics.

END OF THE LIFE OF THE EX-SENATOR.

Calmly Awaiting Its Close He Passes Away at His Indianapolis Home —A Short Sketch of His Life.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 22.—Ex-Senator McDonald died at 11:35 Sunday night. He had lain in a comatose condition since 8:01
o'clock, and at 9:01 o'clock began the irregular breathing
that showed demise was near. His death was peaceful and as if falling asleep. The funeral will occur Wednesday afternoon. Mr.
McDonald told Dr.
Runnels Sunday
morning for the first time of his total abandonment of all hope of recovery.
His strength had shown a decided break, and opiates were administered in the evening to relieve the continuous and painful hiccuping. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the communion was partaken of by him at the hands of Rev. Dr. M. L. Harris, of the First Presbyterian church.
The elders of the latter church and the immediate relatives participated in the service. Senator McDonald's mind was perfectly clear, and at the close he said he desired the communion as a testimony of his faith in Christ. He shook hands with all present, and said that now he would receive no more visitors.
Shortly afterward he fell into an unconscious state, in which he remained till his death.

(Joseph Ewing McDonald was born in Butler County, O., August 29, 1819, and taken to Montgomery county, Ind., in 1828. At the age of 12 years, after a brief period in the village schools, he was apprenticed at the saddlery trade in Lafayette. While working at the trade he studied law, and when he finished his apprenticeship he was prepared to enter Wabash college in the higher classics. In 1849 he entered the law office of Zebulon Beard at Lafayette. The next year he was admitted to the bar. Before he received his license to practice he was nominated for county prosecutor, and he was elected. He was elected attorney general of the state in 1854. He was elected to the legislature in 1856, and re-elected in 1858. Declining for the third time he resumed his law practice and the following year moved to Indianapolis. In 1864 he was party's candidate for governor and canvassed the state in a joint debate with Morton. He was defeated, but there was cast a bigger vote than had been cast the two years previous.
In 1873 he was elected to the United States senate. He failed to be his own successor, Benjamin Harrison being chosen.
In his private life Mr. McDonald was at the head of one of the largest law firms in Indianapolis and one of the three foremost at the Indiana bar. He was engaged in a good many prominent cases which have been tests as to his constitutional ability of the law. Personally he was genial, kindly and winning.
In speech he was forceful without passion. There was no affect in his composition. He was well known all over the country, and familiarly spoke of him as "Joe" or "Uncle Joseph." He was married three times, two sons surviving of the four children of the first marriage. The great part of Mr. McDonald's life was his home life, for he was eminently a home man.)

Meeting of the Free Coinage Men—Gen.
Warner and Other Members of the White Metal Committee Issue an Address.
New York, June 22.—The national executive silver committee held meetings in this city Friday and Saturday.
The following members were present: Gen. A. J. Warner, of Ohio, chairman; Francis G. Newlands, of Nevada, vice chairman; Lee Crandall, of Washington, secretary, and L. M. Ramsey, of Missouri, Edwards Pierrpont was unable to be present.
Senators Jones and Stewart, of Nevada, were in consultation with the committee during the sessions. Saturday evening the committee issued an address, in which it says:
"The national silver committee desires to call the attention of the country to the object which it is endeavoring to achieve, the desperate struggle of the great financial institutions on both sides of the Atlantic to increase the money supply, and thereby to rupee and ruin, and the fact that any increase by one necessarily diminishes the reserves of others. For eighteen years the basis of credit in gold-standard countries has been growing narrower as the single standard has been extended and the production of gold has been growing proportionately larger and more insecure, until the relation of credit to actual money, as disclosed in the Barings failure, in gold standard England has alarmed the world and started anew the struggle for gold that threatens all business undertakings and stalks as a menace to every legitimate enterprise. The remedy is in the restoration of bimetalism. Place our money system again upon the broad basis of gold and silver as the money of ultimate redemption instead of gold alone. Support the credit system of the banks and the country by both the metals under free and unlimited coinage. A stable and not a fluctuating currency is required by legitimate business. Who can stifle the greatest source of the world's trouble, in gold standard countries, by money coined from the metals automatically regulated than in credit devices that to-day are and to-morrow may vanish?"

The committee says this is the paramount issue in this country and should be made such in the elections this year.
All other issues are involved in this and cannot be separated from it.

SMOTHERED BY SAND.

Boys Meet with a Fatal Accident While Digging at the Base of a Bank of Earth in Pennsylvania.

ERIE, Pa., June 22.—Recent rains softened the crust of a high sand bank in this city, and Saturday, when a number of small boys began to dig at its base, it gave way. It was its base. It was its base. It was its base.
Fred Anders was taken out dead. Ed Andrews was taken out alive, but will die. James Burns and Philip Kaufmann were saved through the heroism of James Donlan, who, although half buried, kept the sand back with his little arms so as to keep clear the faces of his companions.
Joseph Schwartz, a stonemason, was buried in another locality and was rescued from beneath tons of earth, but will die.

A SAD TRAGEDY.

An Insane Passenger on an Ocean Steamer Throws His Child Overboard.

New York, June 22.—The steamer La Bretagne which arrived here Sunday from Havre reports that Joseph Feys, aged 40 years, a stevedore passenger and native of Switzerland, while conversing with his family, consisting of a wife and five children, suddenly dragged his 5-year-old son Pierre from his mother's arms and threw him into the sea. The child was lost, and the father, who was apparently insane, was seized by the officers of the ship and put in irons. He had threatened to throw all his children overboard.

DOUBLE MURDER.

A Man and a Woman Shot Dead During a Quarrel at Winston, N. C.

WINSTON, N. C., June 22.—A double murder was committed in this city Sunday morning. John Smith and Wilburn Walker got into a difficulty with some unknown parties near a disreputable house and sought shelter in the house of Henry Goins, a colored man. They were pursued and fired upon, the first shot killing Mary Goins, Walker returned the fire, and Smith, who was between Walker and his pursuer, was shot four times. Smith and the woman died instantly. The unknown parties have escaped.

Will Renominate Boies.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 22.—The democratic state convention will meet at Ottumwa next Wednesday. The delegations are about all selected and the prospects are good for the largest convention in the history of the party. There is a unanimous sentiment in favor of the renomination of Gov. Boies. For lieutenant governor the choice will be between Hon. S. G. Bestow, of Chariton, who was the candidate two years ago, and Hon. C. E. Whiting, of Monona county, who was a candidate for governor in 1885.

Three Girls Asphyxiated.

New York, June 22.—Three girls—Jennie Grossman, Katie Keefe, and Agnes Sears—occupying the same room on the top floor of a boarding-house in East Eighty-sixth street, were found Sunday overcome by escaping gas. The last two were dead, and Miss Grossman, though still breathing, died before a doctor could be called.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 22.—Saturday morning at the county infirmary Eli Burns, a colored lunatic, attacked striking him a violent blow on the head, killing him instantly.

the wife-murderer, who was sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary, committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell at the jail here Saturday.

Found the Soldiers Not Guilty.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 22.— The jury in the case of the six soldiers on trial for the lynching of A. J. Hunt April 24 returned a verdict of not guilty Saturday afternoon.

The Capital Insurance Company of Topeka, Kan., was placed in the hands of a receiver Friday.

RATTLED MRS. BONES TOO MUCH.

A Racine Woman Wants $50,000 From the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

RACINE, June 22.—Mrs. Bones, of Webster, S. D., wife of Ex-Senator Thomas Bones, formerly of Racine, has brought suit for libel, claiming $50,000 from some thirty South Dakota women and a newspaper at Aberdeen. It is a Woman's Christian Temperance Union difficulty, and the other women passed resolutions on Mrs.
Bones and had them printed. In "making a rattling of dry bones" they appear to have overdone the thing a trifle.

DIED FOR OLD BONES.

Strange Cause For a Rockford Man's Suicide.

HIS LONELY STRUGGLE WITH DEATH.

The Bloated Body Found After Lying Four or Five Days in the Heat and Rain—A Fearful Sight Meets Childish Eyes.

Rockford, June 22.—Children playing in an old orchard Sunday afternoon found a blackened and decomposed corpse lying under the trees.
The corpse was that of Joseph Grim, a German, between forty and fifty years of age, who has been doing day work on the cellar of a new house a few rods from where the body lay. It had evidently been lying exposed for several days in the rain and heat, and would never have been recognized but for the clothes. The body was fearfully bloated and black as ink. The process of decomposition was far along, and it was a most sickening sight. Neighbors said that all day yesterday they noticed a horrible stench when the wind came from that direction, but supposed it might be from a pig-pen further up the road.

Filled the House With Carion.

Frank Golrop, the employer of Grimm said that week ago Thursday, Grimm brought a lot of old cow heads, hoofs and bones, into the house, saying such a stench that they couldn't stand it and the next day they threw them out. That is thought to have broken Grim's heart.

The long grass was all trodden down for yards about where the body lay when it was found, and in all probabilities this was caused by the death struggles of the unhappy man writhing under the torments of the poison.

AROUND THE STATE.

A panther was seen near Wausau the other day.

A four-story brick addition will be Racine merchants by strolling into their stores Saturday night and telling them to a cent what their day's receipts

A Rhinelander music teacher discovered that an eighty-acre tract of land in the city limits of that city had never been taken up from the govern-

SOBS FOR A PASTOR.

Affecting Scene at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

REV. M. J. F. ALBRECHT'S FAREWELL.

Children's Day Services at the First Methodist and the Presbyterian Churches—Other Matters of Church News That Are Now Timely.

Rev. M. J. F. Albrecht preached his farewell sermon to St. Paul's congregation yesterday. The auditorium was crowded, and chairs were placed in the aisle to accommodate the great number of communicants that packed the church. The services commenced at 9:30 a. m. in the morning, with confession, followed at 10:00 a. m. by the regular service.

Rev. Mr. Albrecht selected for his text Numbers VI: 23-26, his theme being "The blessing for which a pastor and his flock ask the Lord for each other at their departure."

Many were in tears. The sermon was able and interesting throughout. The pastor's heart and soul seemed thrown into his words as he invoked divine blessings for the members of his congregation. All felt the bitterness of parting, and there were but few dry eyes in the congregation. At the close of the sermon the choir sang with much feeling, a selection from I Chron. 17:27: "For thou blessed, O Lord, and it shall be blessed forever."

About one hundred and forty received Holy Communion.

At the close of the service, which was not until near one o'clock, the entire congregation bade their beloved pastor farewell, it being perhaps the last time they had to meet him. Mr. Albrecht stood at the altar, the people filing past him and shaking his hand. It was a solemn scene. Many were weeping as their lips voiced their parting, "Good-bye, God bless you."

Words All Too Weak. Others grasped the pastor's extended hand, but their hearts were overflowing, and with handkerchiefs wiping away affection's tears, they passed on and out in silence.

Rev. Mr. Albrecht has done much hard work among the Lutheran people of this city, and his labors have been highly appreciated by the members of his congregation. He leaves for Fort Wayne, Indiana, July 1st. To-morrow he goes to Milwaukee to attend the annual meeting of the Synod of Missouri.

Rev. J. Koerner, the new pastor of St. Paul's parish, will be ordained on Sunday, July 5.

Children at the First M. E. Church.

The First M. E. church was well filled last evening, the occasion being the concert and entertainment given by the small children of the Sunday-school, assisted by the choir. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and foliage plants, and the song service throughout was very entertaining. The services were under the directorship of H. G. Arnold, superintendent of the Sunday-school. The following numbers were included in the program: Singing by the choir; prayer by the pastor, Rev. M. Evans; singing by the choir; solo, Mabel Evans; "My Friend," Allie Sumner; "The Banner Bearer," Mand Sherwood; Mand Van Heise; "Flowers and What They Say," Amanda Austin; singing; recitation; "Little Things," Wilbur Evans; "A Little Pilgrim," Annie Cochran; "A Child's Message," Jessie Croft. Address by the Pastor—Rev. M. Evans. Class exercises: singing by the choir; recitation, "No Babies in the Home," Maud Nelson; song, Mattie Evans; "Minutes," Laura Dudley; song, by choir; "Look Aloft," Leslie Williams; reading, Will Rothel; singing by the choir, and recitation, Fannie Clithro.

A Talk on Sunny Syria. It rained outside the Congregational church last evening but the audience within did not mind it.

They were far away in Sunny Syria, the most interesting section of the globe, the land of romance and the cradle of man. It was the occasion of the lecture of Professor Abraham Kani, of Moody's church, Chicago, and the speaker's eloquent flights of rhetoric, his realistic bits of description and the shrewd touches of human nature he introduced into his talk held the audience entranced to the very end.

At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning was devoted to children's day services. An address to the children was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Brown, and the ordinance of baptism was administered to a class of ten. A collection amounting to upwards of twenty-five dollars was taken up for foreign Sunday school missions. There was a large attendance, and the services were highly interesting. In the evening the children of the Sunday school took part in a concert which replaced the regular evening service.

General Church Notes. Mrs. Agnes Leonard Hill delivered a lecture on "Christian Sunday evening at All Souls, and very cleverly entertained her hearers.

"The Harvesters" held a very interesting and profitable meeting Sunday afternoon at Court street church lecture room. There was a good attendance, and the meeting was conducted in accord with the programme published in the Gazette Saturday evening.

JANESVILLE PASTORS GO TO SYNOD. The Annual Meeting of the German Lutheran—Bower City Delegates.

Zinck, of St. Paul's parochial school, and to Milwaukee to-day, and will remain until after the meeting of the synod.

HEARD CHURCH'S CHIMES. McCabe—Judson.

There was a very quiet wedding solemnized at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Eliza Hutson, corner of North Bluff and Court streets. At that hour Dean E. M. McGinnity, of St. Patrick's church, joined with Joseph McCabe, superintendent of the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific railroad, Tacoma, Washington, and Miss Eliza Hutson as husband and wife. Besides the few intimate friends who witnessed the

IS NOW "PROF. LUGG"

Machine Shop Work of a Janesville Pastor Bears Fruit.

HE GOES TO GRANT UNIVERSITY

Athena, Georgia, to Be His Future Home. His Title Being Professor of Technology—Family to Remain in Milwaukee for the Present.

When Rev. Samuel Lugg, formerly presiding elder of the Janesville district, quit the ministry about one year ago and went into a machine shop near Milwaukee he had an object in view. That object has just developed. Mr. Lugg ever had a liking for mechanical arts, and after spending so many years of his life in hard work for the church of his choice, he determined to fit himself for another profession.

A Pastor With Grimy Hands. He gave up the ministry and went into the machine shop as a workman that he might by study and practical experience attain that other position which he had always looked upon with great favor.

Now He Is a Professor. His hosts of friends, not only in this city and in this district, but throughout the state, will rejoice at learning that Mr. Lugg has just been appointed professor of technology in the Grant university at Athens, Georgia. His family will continue to reside for the present in Milwaukee, but will ultimately remove to the south if Mr. Lugg's new work proves congenial.

FORGED A. W. WHELOCK'S NAME. How a Bad Rockfordite Got the Crookery Man for Reference.

A well dressed stranger made Arthur W. Wheelock's name serve him in passing a forged check for $12.75 on H. E. Howard in Rockford Saturday night. He stepped into Mr. Howard's place of business and asked to look at his baby cabs. The merchant displayed his wares in this line to the customer, who was not very slow in making a choice, and said that he would take one that cost $6.50. In payment he presented a check made out to A. W. Wheelock or bearer for $12.75.

The forger said that he had tried to purchase a cab at Wheelock's but that they did not keep them any more, and that gentleman had sent him to Howard's to buy one, and to prove his statements he produced one of Wheelock's cards. The check was cashed by Rice, Price & Co., and Mr. Howard cashed it for him, and gave the fellow back $6.25 in change. It was not until some time later that the fraud was discovered, but the forger was quickly located and is now under arrest.

NO MAIL AT THE DOOR. The House Letter Box System May Be Adopted.

Postmaster General Wanamaker and Major Pollock, superintendent of the free delivery service, are both in favor of adopting the proposed house letter box system. They are now considering the question of adopting a suitable box. A dispatch from Washington says Superintendent Pollock asserts that over one million dollars now expended on the free delivery system can be saved or used in the extension of the free delivery of the mails by the establishment of the proposed house-box system. He holds that people living in the large cities have no more right to have their mail delivered to them at their front doors than the farmer living out in the country. He contends that every house in the free delivery cities should be provided with a letter box, or the occupants should be deprived of the free delivery service.

PRONOUNCED HOPELESS, YET SAVED. From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hard, of Groton, S. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get a large quantity of cod liver oil, and I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at W. T. Sherer & Co.'s drugstore; regular size 50c and $1.00.

SANG TO A DYING CHRISTIAN.

County Sunday School Workers Among the Inmate at Johnstown.

Fifty Sunday school workers from the city, the Janesville grange hall school and the town of Fulton, gathered at the county house in Johnstown at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, where appropriate exercises were held, more time being spent in singing than in talking. The audience was on our annual visit. After the chapel service we passed to the rear veranda and sang at the request of a dying christian man, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

We found many familiar faces, and talked with them of by-gone days. The day was beautiful, the buildings inviting and the greetings of Mr. and Mrs. Allen and their numerous householders and sisters were most heartily received. We responded with the relish that would follow an early breakfast and ten to twenty miles ride and two hours of church service. A few of the aged ones were invited by "mine host" to sit at his table, while the greater number sat under trees and spread unnumbered viands from well filled baskets. About an hour was spent in visiting and going about the wards.

The Queen was in her usual happy condition of mind and state, being surrounded by her treasures, graciously bowed and spoke to callers, particularly those who she fancied. The king of Sweden was not in state, but carried on his breast the insignia of office. I was particularly interested in one young woman who in former years was a constant attendant upon professor of technology in the Grant university at Athens, Georgia. His family will continue to reside for the present in Milwaukee, but will ultimately remove to the south if Mr. Lugg's new work proves congenial.

GOODBYE TO WELLES.

Janesville Young Ladies' Seminary Is No More.

FUNDS FOR ITS SUPPORT LACKING.

In Consequence an Institution That Had Become a Credit to the City Will Pass From View—Two Years of Good Work.

When the Bishop Welles school closed its second year's term on Thursday last, it was decided that the corporate organization should close up its affairs and dissolve.

The school was organized two years ago. The founders had in view a seminary in which young ladies might receive the same education that was given at Rockford or Kenosha. The school was opened under very flattering prospects, with promises of increased patronage. The patronage did not materialize, hence the abandonment at this time of the school.

Those who have been in attendance at the school have received their education in other advanced schools, and some will go to Kemper Hall and some to the Rockford Female Seminary. Many will regret the necessity which prompted the abandonment of the project of establishing a first-class seminary for the education of young ladies in Janesville, as the school had already taken rank as one of the best in the state.

LARGEST AND BEST OF ALL. The Forepaugh Shows Knock 'Em All Shilly.

The legend borne in the head of this paragraph is a familiar one to our readers, for look where they will now they will see the words on the hand-drawn map of circus pictures they have ever seen.

The legend is a truthful one, much more so than the average circus story—it tells tersely and plainly the story of the shows. The first Adam Forepaugh show was organized in 1861, and up to the death of its founder in January, 1890, its way was one of wonderful progression. Year by year it grew steadily, and better than all—reputation. It outstripped all other shows, and was far and away their leader when its founder passed away.

Then it changed hands and was purchased by its sole owner now, James E. Cooper, who outbid an English syndicate, so as to keep America's oldest and best show in America. Mr. Cooper then added to the already overwhelming exhibition enough to make three ordinary shows, thus organizing as they now appear the Adam Forepaugh shows. Consequently they are the oldest—28 consecutive years. They represent $2,000,000, with an average daily expense of $5,500. They have fifty cars each, sixty feet in length, four trains, 1,200 men and horses—consequently are the richest. They cover more circus ground with their fourteen galleries of waterproof tents than a half dozen ordinary shows, therefore they are the legend is verified in every particular. When it changed hands at Janesville next Wednesday they will show more foreign features alone than some shows have features all told, and are the only shows that can rightfully write the legend.

LOOKS LIKE A BIG HARVEST. The Government Crop Report Shows Generally Good Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The special bulletin issued by the signal office for the week ending Saturday shows the conditions of crops as follows: Iowa and Nebraska—Too much rain during the past week for best crop conditions, corn especially needing sunshine; slight damage by hail in southern Nebraska. Michigan and Wisconsin—Conditions favorable to all crops, although sunshine and warmth are needed. Drought in Michigan. Hay is reported less than a half crop in Wisconsin. Ohio and Indiana—All crops doing well, though rainfall has been badly distributed in some parts of Indiana. Wheat harvest begun in Indiana; crop heavy. Weeds somewhat troublesome in portions of Ohio.

Illinois—Crops in Missouri and northern Illinois have damaged crops somewhat. Crop conditions favorable except oats. Corn growing well.

INSURGENTS GAINING GROUND. The Emeralds Destroy Balmaceda's Means of Revenue and His Troops Revolt.

LIQUEUR, June 22.—The insurgent forces of Balmaceda have shelled and completely destroyed the guano works at the Lobos or Seal Guano islands. Shipments of guano are now impossible, and government revenues therefore cut off. The startling news has reached Liqueur that there is serious disaffection among Balmaceda's forces at Coquimbo, an insubordinate rebellion has been kindled. Several officers who refused to join them were killed. These troops are marching northward to join the congressional forces at Caldera. The insurgents are wild with enthusiasm and feel certain of final victory.

United Action Against Hippolyte. PARIS, June 22.—The Sicile claims to have information that the cabinets of the various European powers are discussing the expediency of united action against President Hippolyte, of Hayti, with the object of restoring order in that republic.

Will Meet in Omaha. OMAHA, Neb., June 22.—The commission appointed by the last general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church has decided to hold the next quadrennial conference in this city during May, 1892.

Northwestern Saengerfest in Milwaukee. Special train service on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. Good to return on any train or day from July 7 to 13. ## CROP ACREAGES ARE LOW.

Summary of Condition in All Parts of the State.

Observer Heintz reports show that the past week averaged slightly warmer than usual, the first half being much warmer than usual, with sunshine and showers, and the latter part much cooler, with general rainfall throughout the state.

The rains assumed a local aspect in the central counties, embracing Janesville, Adams, Waushara, Marquette and Green Lake, and fields receiving generous showers, while others received a barely measurable amount, not sufficient to revive vegetation.

The same conditions prevailed in the extreme northern counties, but elsewhere in the state generous rains, ranging from one to four inches, fell in the several counties.

The average rainfall for the week for the state was slightly more than two inches. In the eastern (the former dronth) counties it was found the section of heaviest rainfall for the week, averaging nearly four inches in Calumet and Keweenaw counties, and from one and a half to two and a half inches in neighboring counties.

There has been a decided, and in some sections a marvelous improvement in the growth of all vegetation. Late sown grains, pastures, potatoes, corn and late seedlings are all showing the beneficial effects of the rains. There is a unanimity of opinion on the part of observers and correspondents that the hay crop will be very short. The drought that continued almost uninterruptedly from the latter part of April to the middle of the present month in the interior and eastern counties worked sad havoc with all crops in those sections, yet the present week has been very greatly improved and the average conditions for the state, given above, are not so discouraging as might have been anticipated.

The cranberry vines continue in a favorable and promising condition. A great deal of millet is being sown, parched fields of grain and grass being plowed under for the purpose.

Seeding of buckwheat has been commenced in some sections, and haying has commenced.

Clay soil crops are reported rather poor, corn and oats being small and thin.

In the east-central and eastern counties the hope of the future of the present season lies in corn, potatoes, pastures and dairying.

The following averages of the conditions of the several crops at date have been compiled from reports of correspondents in all sections of the state. Winter wheat, 72 per cent, spring wheat 68, winter rye 69, spring rye 68, oats 71, barley 62, corn 36, potatoes 91, clover 53, and hay 40. Buckwheat and millet will average above the usual acreage. Small fruits average condition 60.

McCormick Purchase at Hinsdale. The McCormick Land Association, Chicago, which was organized recently, has a capital stock of $150,000, divided into 150 shares of $1,000 each. The property is located in the town of Hinsdale, one and a half blocks from the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy depot. Already a large part of stock has been taken and the remaining shares will be disposed of rapidly.

Leander H. McCormick is the treasurer. He looked suburban property over thoroughly, and decided that Hinsdale, which is the highest point of land between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river, offered the best advantages. The property will be subdivided and improved with the highest class of improvements, including sewers, water, paving and stone sidewalks. Ten acres are reserved for an artificial lake. Beside this there will be a park and serpentine drives. The first lots will be placed on the market at $25 per foot, which is less than unimproved lots are selling for at a greater distance from the depot.

Shall Women Be Allowed To Vote? The question of female suffrage has agitated the tongues and pens of reformers for many years, and good arguments have been adduced for and against it.
